

accessible video transcript

Maker Clubs are Fun for Teachers Too

It was fun for the teachers too. The makers club became really fun for me because I got to see the kids in a different way and in a more relaxed way and in a way that was more...

The center was their interests and their skills. And a lot of times especially I'm an ELA teacher, but I think it's probably true for all the teachers. This is really led by the kids and by their interests and their ideas and their talents, which is really, really fun for all of us, the kids and the teachers.